

Language is the primary tool for expression and communication , it can help us better understand ourselves and why we behave the way we do.