

when a man starts to jump, initially he crouches, lowering his center of gravity, CG, a distance d , called the acceleration distance. This, in turn