

Hello my teachers and friends. In 1903, the first airplane with a steam engine was made by the Wright brothers, and it advanced and developed and became important in all countries, whether military, merchants, or merchants.