The IFRS 15 model ensures that revenue in the banking sector is recognized systematically and reflects the actual delivery of services.This enhances transparency, comparability, and reliability of financial statements, ensuring that revenue is not recognized prematurely but aligned with the bank's performance obligations

Summarized by © lakhasly.com