

In this way, the poet projects the theme of appearance vs reality