

Dolphins are intelligent and social marine mammals. They communicate with each other using clicks, whistles, and body language.