

Summary: Two friends were walking in a forest and promised to stay together in case of danger. Suddenly, a bear approached them. One friend quickly climbed a tree, leaving the other behind.