

B. The basic elements are: The full title of the report The name of the writer The writer's company The person or company receiving report The date of the report 20072005 C. Table of Contents Allows the reader to find the major elements of the report easily. It previews the report's organization, depth, and emphasis.