

She wanted to go by the sea to save her village by returning the green heart, but her father didn't agree. Maui was responsible of the problem, because he took Te Fiti's heart.