

This fundamental difference reflects the distinct reproductive strategies of each sex.