

Cardholders agree to pay the money back with interest, according to the institution's terms. Credit cards are issued