

The story of Patricia Narayan, winner of this year's 'FICCI Woman Entrepreneur of the Year' award in 2010 is amazing. Offer to run a canteen On seeing my work at the beach, within a year, the Slum Clearance Board gave me an offer to run the canteen at their office with a proper Kitchen. Later, I got an offer to run the Bank of Madurai canteen, I stopped running the canteen at the Slum Clearance Board canteen. It was quite lucrative in the sense, even ten rupees was a blessing for me. The first step as an entrepreneur's friend, who was running a school for handicapped children, was handing out mobile carts or kiosks to people who would employ at least two handicapped people.
