

Clean and safe water is essential to our daily life. At this stage, those big and large objects such as wood, leaves, algae, fish and other objectionable suspended matter are prevented from entering the intake with the water.