

I don't know why you say this I am originally a respectable and very shy person. If I were with you, I would prove to you the truth of what I say I apologize for the length I will still love you even if you don't love me