

Caitlin Clark shares her emotional daydream: Playing with this WNBA player. former iowa hawkeyes stars Caitlin Clark and Kate Martin share one of the most heartwarming friendships in the WNBA. The pair's bond, forged during their time together at Iowa, remains strong despite playing for different teams now. Before her game, Clark spoke to the media and made notable comments about Martin. When asked about Martin's start in the WNBA, Clark praised her friend, saying, "What everybody else sees in her, that's what I've seen in her for a really long time. And I'm just really happy for her." Clark, currently with the Indiana Fever, recently shared her feelings about Martin's career and expressed a desire for a reunion on the court. Clark and Martin, both rookies in the WNBA, have maintained their close relationship, staying in contact daily. On Thursday, both had games, with Martin's Las Vegas Aces facing the Chicago Sky and Clark's Fever playing against the Seattle Storm.
