

Many people check how many steps they walk every day. Researchers looked at 17 studies about how far people walked. Taking 4,000 steps is the same as a 30-minute walk, or about three to four kilometres.