

indicating a change or contrast relative to some previous statement; and (4) so introducing a consequence or result of previous event. The teacher can exploit the learners' experience in reading by means of further activities.<sup>3</sup>