

The idea of tying and replacing car tires is considered one of the best ways to maintain the safety of car tires in order to ensure their efficiency equally. Especially since the car tire wears out faster than the rear tire for several reasons, as the car tires rely on braking and rotation, in addition to the engine being loaded on them.