

The State Council can contribute to enhancing public–private sector cooperation by proposing initiatives that facilitate partnerships between the government and investors.