

Beauty is found around us everywhere, because it is the work of God Almighty. Even if tastes differ, people will not disagree that beauty is all around us and that it comforts the human soul just by looking at it. There is beauty in nature and beauty in creatures, and each beauty is different and has its own charm. Even the human eye can discern beauty, but we all have our own taste for our favorite beautiful things. There are those who love the beauty of flowers, there are those who love the beauty of water, and there are those who love the beauty of creatures.
