

The research participants were 32 students from the college. The information for this report was collected from various different sources: the library, online search and a survey. As for the survey, a questionnaire was prepared and distributed to the respondents. After that, the results of the questionnaires were tallied, put into a table, and converted to percentages. The data was then analyzed and represented in the form of pie-charts / bar graphs. All the information collected was summarized and used for writing the introduction of the report.
