

The main idea or point of the paragraph is stated in the topic sentence, usually the first sentence of the paragraph. The topic sentence tells the reader what the paragraph is about.