

Social and psychological factors combine with physiological addiction to maintain the tobacco habit. oSecondary reinforcers: stimuli that are not necessarily pleasurable in themselves but that are associated with other stimuli that are pleasurable.