

Enclosures are areas surrounded by barriers for several reasons. Such a decision helped captive breeding, which helped recover Oryx's numbers. Coordination of the countries that have this endangered specie helped reduce sources of problems and solve the problem effectively. Also, strict laws were introduced to prevent illegal trade in Arabian Oryx, which tightened up the choices for poachers and made many of them stop hunting.