

A tool used to establish priorities, dividing contributing effects into the "Vital few" and "Useful many." A Pareto diagram includes three basic elements: contributors to the total effect, ranked by the magnitude of contribution, magnitude of the contribution of each expressed numerically, and cumulative percent of the total effect of the ranked contributors.