

They are public firms that mainly focus on shareholder returns. The large lighting companies may predict that they cannot receive a profit out of it and simply not consider the market segment as worthy of an investment. 26–39. From this, Sam was able to design a d.light to fully solve the issue. Image of page 1