

Enterprise systems)are integrated software applications used to manage and coordinate all business processes.