

There are many benefits of giving charity. To sum up, I think poor people who don't choose this hard life need us as good citizens to protect them from poverty.