

Bullying is a repeated aggressive behavior that involves an imbalance of power between the bully and the victim. Bullying takes many forms, and it can occur in schools, workplaces, online platforms, and other social environments.