

Expo City is a double-edged sword, offering both positive and negative impacts. The key lies in leveraging the positive aspects while proactively addressing the negative impacts through sustainable practices, equitable distribution of benefits, and cultural integration programs.