

3.violence against women: And because what the West promotes most is respect for women, but in wrestling matches we find that it has no connection to this principle, as it seems that they are just slogans, so the wrestler hits a woman and severely harms her in front of the audience and viewers, and thus we find the child hitting girls at school and not seeing any embarrassment.4.Aggression and insensitivity: Children, unlike adults, are greatly influenced by what they see on television.In this.