

The subjective ratings from participants provided valuable insights into the perceived improvements in the child's speech clarity and the overall effectiveness of the VR therapy interventions.