Normative social influence motivates people to conform by driving the desire to fit in, be liked, and avoid rejection by the group.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com