

Service marketing needs adaptation and personalization. Businesses must tailor strategies to individual needs, prioritizing relationship building, effective communication, and quality assurance.