

In the evening, we visited the West End to catch a musical. The performance was spectacular, leaving us in awe of the talent and creativity on display.