

International relations (IR), are the interactions among sovereign states.