

1. Gene editing: Technologies like CRISPR–Cas9 raise concerns about manipulating the human genome, altering the genetic traits of future generations