

Hello I'm Alan Robson and you are listening to did you know today we are discussing people's names and to answer your questions we have Dr Julia Romano hello everyone let's begin with a call from Emma Baker how did our the ancestors get their family names well they were often place names from example shows that's my ancestors we're once from Roma here is an email from I Adnan haifawi he asks what his name means it's like me and it's means he's family where I'm from high fall on Google now we have next message from Dan Schumacher he asked where he's family where from from Germany then name is German from shoe and make her so they made people's shows there are other work names to like farmer and Fisher this email is from Tina Johnson she wants to know when people started using family names long ago very halves 700 years ago people started calling aan ancestor offered you handsome and it become your son and finally we have Lucy Perry Paris on the line how do we run through giving name in different way for example parents often have hope their children will be like their names you're mean yours means like Lucy to be so perhaps your parents hope you all bearing light into people sleep lives and make them happy