

M and BAHIS of the University of Laghouat-2017) in order to determine the internal working models and attachment styles of the research group; we also used the Rorschach test in an integrated system to determine indicators of attachment and indicators of depression, obsessive- Compulsive disorder and suicide attempt.