

systematic direction and control of the activities that transform resources into finished products that create value for and provide benefits to customers