Diabetes is a well-documented risk factor for CKD, as high blood glucose levels damage the filtering units of the kidneys, leading to nephropathy.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com