

the internet has become an integral part of our daily lives over the last two decades. Moreover, the internet has proved to be a great help in exceptional global situations, such as epidemics like the Coronavirus. During lockdowns, businesses and schools did not have to stop working since they could do it all online without even leaving their houses. First of all, using the internet has made communication with people all around the world available and accessible. Long ago, communication among people living in faraway places was a nearly impossible mission.
