

Rules of Binomial Nomenclature

- o The rest of the binomial nomenclature rules for writing the scientific names of organisms include the following:
- o All the scientific names of organisms are usually Latin. This is done to specify its Latin origin. Hence, they are written in italics.