

o Lysosomes are vacuoles surrounded with membranes. These membranes have the same structure of plasma membrane. They are present only in animal cells and absent in plant cells.