

Strategic human resources management aims at enabling employees deliver the best for the workplace Strategic human resources management aims to enable the employee collective workplace performance in meeting the organization goals and objectives.