

Once upon a time, Lyla was living with her mother in a house. She decided one day to go visit her grandmother, she was singing happily as she walked in her way, until a wolf appeared in front of her. The wolf asked her: where are you going? "I'm going to see my grandmother, she lives in a house behind that tree." The wolf ran to granny's house to arrive before Lyla arrived. While the wolf arrived to grandmother's house, he slept in her bed, after he hid her in the closet. A little later, Lyla reached the house, she was very happy because she will meet her grandmother. Lyla asked granny: "why your eyes are big"? The wolf answered: to see you good? Lyla asked again: "why your ears are big"? The wolf answered: "to hear you better." Lyla asked again: "why do you have a big teeth?" The wolf said to eat you better. Lyla shouted loudly asking for help. A woodcutter was in the wood, he heard a loud scream. The woodcutter ran quickly toward high sound, holding his axe with his hand, he found Lyla and the wolf holding her. The woodcutter hit the wolf on his head. The wolf suffered too much, then he left Lyla, and admitted where he was hiding her grandmother. The wolf ran away, and the woodcutter helped Lyla and her grandmother from the wolf. The grandmother thanked the woodcutter for his help, and she told Lyla to be more careful in the future.
