Contributing to the higher security risk of wireless networks compared to wired networks.Resources: Some wireless devices such as mobiles and tabs have modern operating systems but limited memory and processing resources that leads to threats.This increases their vulnerability.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com