The benefits of sugar is that it provides the body with energy, as it turns into glucose when it reaches the blood, and is absorbed by the cells that help produce energy.