

Set the system as shown in figure (3-1). Find the slope of the straight line you drew in step 8 and use it to , calculate the gravitational acceleration  $g$ . Note that the electronically conducting sphere is attached to the release position, which closes the start circuit. Release the sphere from its initial position. From the counter/timer, record the time,  $t$ , the sphere takes to reach the pan.