

The Big Board: Kim Mulkey, LSU Searching For Point Guard in NCAA Transfer Portal, Kim Mulkey and her LSU program are navigating a busy month of April with the NCAA Transfer Portal officially open for business. Olsen, a 5-foot-9 junior guard from Pennsylvania, averaged 23.3 points in the 2023-24 season, behind only Iowa's Caitlin Clark (31.6) and USC's JuJu Watkins (27.1). For Mulkey and Co., it's about finding a true point guard to lead her talented roster along with adding depth via the Transfer Portal. The Tigers have been quiet about their moves, but behind the scenes, the work is being done as this program looks to add to their embarrassment of riches already. The current state of the roster isn't one to frown upon. With sophomore sensation Flau'jae Johnson, SEC Freshman of the Year Mikaylah Williams and All-American caliber forward Aneesah Morrow returning.
